Advancement to a higher group.

14. Advancement from any one group to a higher group shall be by promotion only.

Annual increments.

15. (1) Subject to these Regulations officers shall be entitled to the annual increments set down for the respective groups in which they are classified under Schedule A or Schedule B, unless the Head of their Department reports previously in writing that the officers' conduct, diligence or efficiency is unsatisfactory and the Lieutenant-Governor decides in consequence that any increment shall be withheld. If any increment is so withheld the officer shall be entitled on his request to have his case reconsidered by the Lieutenant-Governor.

(2) Increments shall be payable as from the first day of January, 1921, as regards those officers who on the first day of January, 1920, were filling the office in which they are classified. In the case of officers appointed subsequently to the first day of January, 1920, to the office in which they are classified, increments shall commence to be payable twelve months after the date of their appointment to such offices. Provided that in the case of those officers in groups having increments fixed to enable the minimum salary of £400 to be reached after four years' service, increments shall be given at yearly intervals from the date of their entry into the service.

(4) Where an officer is in receipt of a minimum salary of  $\pounds 400$  by reason only that he is married he shall not be entitled to any salary exceeding  $\pounds 400$  within the group in which his office is classified until such time as he would have become entitled by annual increments to such salary exceeding  $\pounds 400$  had he been unmarried. Nothing in this Regulation shall affect the right of any officer to receive a salary exceeding  $\pounds 400$  at any time consequent upon the re-classification of his office or his promotion to a higher grade.

(5) Where an officer is promoted to a higher group and his salary before promotion is less than the minimum salary of the group to which he is promoted, his salary from the date of his promotion shall be the minimum salary of the group to which he is promoted. Subsequent increments in his new group shall become payable at yearly intervals from the date of his promotion to such group.

(6) Where an officer is promoted to a higher group and his salary before promotion is not less than the minimum salary of the group to which he is promoted, he shall (subject to the next following Regulation) continue to draw his former rate of salary in his new group until one year from the date on which he received his last increment, when he shall receive an increment of such amount as will bring his salary to an incremental step in his new group; provided that such first increment in his new group shall not be less than any increment he would have become entitled to had he not been promoted, but less than the amount of two increments of the new group.

Subsequent increments shall become payable at yearly intervals from the date he received such first increment in the new group.

(7) Where an officer who had reached the maximum of his group before promotion, and in consequence had received no increment during the year preceding his promotion, is promoted to a higher group and his salary before promotion is not less than the minimum salary of the group to which he is promoted, such officer shall receive an increment as from the date of his promotion of such amount as will bring his salary to the next incremental step in his new group.
